

COSPAR Statement of Principles

The principles COSPAR upholds in advancing its mission are the following:

- COSPAR fosters scientific research in space on a global scale, placing emphasis on the sharing of results, information, and viewpoints. It offers a forum open to all scientists.
- COSPAR strives to maintain a robust international space research community, uninhibited by geopolitical tensions or disparities.
- COSPAR mandates that both presentations at its gatherings and articles in its journals stem from scientific research carried out with the utmost ethical integrity.
- COSPAR discloses any financial support that might be perceived as influencing its activities or positions it might advocate.
- The Inclusion, Diversity, Equity and Accessibility (IDEA) initiative promotes diversity and equity in all activities, and identifies meaningful roles for all researchers, including young professionals across COSPAR programs
- IDEA embodies a progressive and comprehensive understanding of Inclusion, Diversity, Equity, and Accessibility. This vision fuels the expansion and influence of COSPAR's global community and attracts new members from all scientific domains, ensuring sustained impact of the organization into the future.
- COSPAR firmly stands against any form of discrimination or harassment.